

Sean Murphy joins Radius Health Board of Directors

August 10, 2020

WALTHAM, Mass., Aug. 10, 2020 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Radius Health, Inc. ("Radius" or the "Company") (Nasdaq: RDUS) today announced the appointment of Sean Murphy to its Board of Directors with immediate effect.

Sean has several decades of experience in the industry across pharmaceuticals, diagnostics, and global markets. Sean worked at Abbott Laboratories for 30-years where he led the corporate business development and mergers and acquisition activity.

Owen Hughes, Chairman of the Board of Radius Health, commented that, "Sean is a person of great integrity, has operated at the highest levels within the industry, and will be a terrific addition to the Board. We all look forward to his counsel and contributions as we look to progress the Radius business model."

Sean is currently on the boards of Poseida Therapeutics, a publicly traded cell and gene engineering technology company and Xenex Corporation, a privately held UV based technology company focused on eradicating healthcare associated infections generated by a wide range of micro-organisms, as well as Immucor, a privately held leading blood and tissue diagnostics company. Sean has also been an industry advisor to Evercore, a boutique investment bank and in that role, advised dozens of companies with regards to strategy.

Forward-Looking Statements

This press release contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. All statements contained in this press release that do not relate to matters of historical fact should be considered forward-looking statements, including without limitation statements regarding progressing our business model.

These forward-looking statements are based on management's current expectations. These statements are neither promises nor guarantees, but involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other important factors that may cause our actual results, performance or achievements to be materially different from any future results, performance or achievements expressed or implied by the forward-looking statements, including, but not limited to, the following: the adverse impact the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic is having and is expected to continue to have on our business, financial condition and results of operations, including our commercial operations and sales, clinical trials, preclinical studies, and employees; we may need to raise additional funding, which may not be available; risks related to raising additional capital, including as a result of COVID-19; our limited operating history; quarterly fluctuation in our financial results; our dependence on the success of TYMLOS, and our inability to ensure that TYMLOS will obtain regulatory approval outside the U.S. or be successfully commercialized in any market in which it is approved, including as a result of risk related to coverage, pricing and reimbursement; risks related to competitive products; risks related to our ability to successfully enter into collaboration or partnership agreements and any collaboration agreements failing to be successful; risks related to clinical trials, including our reliance on third parties to conduct key portions of our clinical trials and uncertainty that results will support our product candidate claims; the risk that adverse side effects will be identified during the development of our product candidates or during commercialization, if approved; risks related to manufacturing, supply and distribution; and the risk of litigation or other challenges regarding our intellectual property rights. These and other important risks and uncertainties discussed in our filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission, or SEC, including under the caption "Risk Factors" in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ending December 31, 2019 and subsequent filings with the SEC, could cause actual results to differ materially from those indicated by the forward-looking statements made in this press release. Any such forward-looking statements represent management's estimates as of the date of this press release. While we may elect to update such forward-looking statements at some point in the future, we disclaim any obligation to do so, even if subsequent events cause our views to change. These forward-looking statements should not be relied upon as representing our views as of any date subsequent to the date of this press release.
